Should you be inclined to think the price of this stock is high, we hope you will make the proper investigation and decide for yourself whether or not this is the case.

Ours is a mine—not a prospect, and our company has seen sufficiently good reason to spend its money in development work, until now, we have no hesitation about asking you to make the investigations any conservative investor would naturally make for the purpose of placing his money where there is every reasonable possibility of earning a legitimate profit.

As a means of placing the full information relative to this company and all of its various properties more fully before the investor who wishes to make investigations, we ask that you mail us the coupon from this page. In return we will immediately forward to you full and sufficient data, including assays and engineer's reports.
